Transport Friendly Society is authorised by the Prudential Regulation Authority and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority and the Prudential Regulation Authority

What is this product?

The product is a tax-exempt with profits endowment policy with contributions payable for a fixed term of at least 10 years. The maximum age at entry is 15. This document shows values based upon a policy term of ten years and a Child aged 8.

Objectives

- To build a tax-free cash sum
- To allow the child to take advantage of the friendly society tax exempt savings allowance
- To provide a guaranteed tax-free cash lump sum should the child die during the term of the plan, after the age of 10 years.

Intended Retail Investor

The Plan is available to anyone, under the age of 16 at the time of joining, who is a child, step-child or grandchild of someone who is employed in or associated with the passenger transport industry.

The insurance benefits included in this plan are a guaranteed lump sum plus attaching bonuses, if any, payable to the family should the child die. The average cost of this life cover assuming the child's age is 8 at entry is £0.71 per annum.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

The Summary Risk Indicator (SRI) assumes you keep the product for 10 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less than you paid in. The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. We have classified this product as 3 out of 7 which is a medium-low risk class. This rates the potential loss from future investment performance as medium-low. This is because you are entitled to receive back at least the Guaranteed Sum Assured at maturity. Any amount over this and any additional return depends on future market performance and is uncertain. However, this protection against future market performance will not apply if you cash in before the maturity date or fail to make all your payments on time. You will receive nothing back if you stop the policy during the first year. If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment. However, you may benefit from a consumer protection scheme (see the section "what happens if we are unable to pay you"). The indicator shown above does not consider this protection.

The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies, and are not an exact indicator. What you get back will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the plan. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where we are not able to pay you. The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may affect how much you get back.

How long should I hold it and can I take the money out early?

It is important to remember that this plan is a long term contract. In the first year, after the cooling-off period if you decide that you do not want the plan you will not be entitled to any of the money you have paid in. However, if after one year, and before two years have elapsed, you decide that you want to cash it in early, you would be entitled to a refund of one third of what you have paid in. After you have paid in for two years or more you would have the choice of one of the following two options:

- Leave the money paid in with a corresponding lower sum assured, or
- Surrender the Plan for its surrender value. If you surrender the plan, particularly in the early years you may get back less than you have paid in.

Recommended Minimum Holding Period

Taking into account the above information, the recommended holding period for the Plan is the full term of the Savings Plan which you agreed when you took out the Plan.
